

Ariana Angelo

Actor | Voice Over Artist

Ariana Angelo made her professional debut in 2014 as Brigitta Von Trapp in the Andrew Lloyd Webber/Pieter Toerien production of The Sound of Music. She followed this with performances at the Tshwane Youth Theatre, the Lauren Marshall School of Ballet and in the role of July in Pieter Toerien's 2016 production of Annie. Ariana's interest in theatre and the arts began at a very young age and she continues to train in dance, drama, voice and singing. Over the years she has received many ballet, drama, singing and speech awards in eisteddfods and talent competitions with best performer awards in many of these.

Ariana attends high school at St Mary's DSG. She has excelled in her academic career, receiving the highest scholar's award in grade and the Dux Scholar's award at her primary school. In addition to her activities in the performing arts, Ariana enjoys school sport and particularly hockey. She spends time with her dogs Chiara and Scouro and going out with her friends.
