

Andile Nebulane

Actor | Voice Over Artist

Andile Nebulane is a very versatile South African actor popularly known for his current role as Detective Malinga on Generations - The Legacy. He has also graced our screens on shows like Blood Psalms, Rhythm City, Igazi, Keeping Score and Hustle to name a few. He has also work intensively in theatres around the globe.

When he is not in front of the camera or on stage, he is behind the scenes coaching dialogue, dialect, and performance.

One of highlights behind the scenes, was to be the late Chadwick Boseman's dialect coach in three projects including Black Panther.

Andile Nebulane also founded his company named after him Andile Nebulane (PTY) LTD with the aim to inspire, empower, educate, entertain and to create employment through visual and performing arts. The major aim is to tell home brewed stories on screen and on stage, to be a mirror of the society and a voice of the voiceless.
